

SLOTHOWER IS CHOSEN MAYOR IN HEAVY VOTE

Tyler, Vaile, Dimick and Lenox Victors for Commission

BULLETIN
At this afternoon's meeting of the new city council the assignment of department, it was authoritatively stated, would be as follows: Mayor Slothower, public affairs; Commissioner Tyler, public health and safety; Commissioner Vaile, streets and alleys; Commissioner Dimick, accounts and finances; and Commissioner Lenox, public property.

City Clerk Blake Grover and City Attorney Martin J. Gannon will be retained in their respective positions, and it is understood the police and fire departments will remain unchanged.

William V. Slothower was elected mayor of the City of Dixon yesterday by the decisive majority of 827, defeating Mayor George Campbell.

The four commissioners elected were Cal G. Tyler, Joseph E. Vaile, Fred G. Dimick and Clyde H. Lenox. Their standing on the final count was in the order named.

The official canvass by the outgoing council this morning gave the following figures: Campbell 1618; Slothower 2445; Dimick 1884; Lenox 1757; Loftus 1531; Schumm 1197; Sproul 1063; Tyler 2281; Vaile 2124; White 1685. The unofficial tabulation of the vote will be found on page 7.

A. E. Simonson was elected Police Magistrate by a vote of 1883 to 1553 for Fremont M. Kaufman.

Sworn In Today
The outgoing council met this morning at 9:30, canvassed the vote, paid each other some nice compliments, welcomed the new council, and went out of existence after Mayor Campbell administered the oath of office to his successor. He shook his hand and wished him success.

Before the close of the old council session Mr. Campbell thanked all of the members of the commission for their kind cooperation and help and he added that he always had and always will have the best interests of the people of Dixon at heart and that he was glad to be able to look back over his sixteen years of service in the council and find nothing in his record of which he is ashamed.

Commissioner Cal Tyler, the only one of the old commission to weather the storm (Tyler was high man in the voting for the new commission) also thanked the other members and city officials for their cooperation and said that it was with mixed feelings that he attended today's sessions as he felt a warm friendship for all of the members of the council.

Praised John Loftus
Mayor Campbell congratulated Mr. Tyler and added that the people defeated one of the best commissioners Dixon ever had when they beat Commissioner John Loftus.

Commissioners Loftus and Moeller also expressed their appreciation for the friendship of the other city officials. Both of them said they had tried to give efficient service and they both wished success to the incoming council.

After Mayor Slothower was sworn into office, he called upon Tyler, Vaile, Dimick and Lenox in the order named and administered the oath to them, but could not distribute the stars because the various departments had not been assigned. The Mayor announced that the council would take a recess until 2:30, and the members then adjourned to the Mayor's office for a private conference on now the departments would be assigned.

Tie Vote Reported in Nelson Tuesday

(Special Telegraph Service)
Nelson, April 17—Leo N. Lehman was elected president of the Nelson village board in the village election held Tuesday. He polled 78 votes against his opponent, James Beronx who polled 64.

Six candidates ran for trustee, with three to be elected. The leading aspirants were Cleon Weaver with 85 votes, Henry Duffy with 62 votes, and John Schoaf and Ed Ortgiesen who polled 65 votes each. On a flip of the coin to decide the tie, Ortgiesen won. Ben H. Veith polled 64 votes, and Klaus Siebold, 33.

GUARDS RUSHED TO OHIO PRISON

Nature of Emergency in Penitentiary was Unexplained at Noon

Columbus, O., April 17 —(AP)—Forty-seven emergency guards, some bearing tear gas bombs, were rushed inside the Ohio state penitentiary walls this morning as Warden James C. Woodward attempted to break a passive rebellion of 1,056 convicts.

Just why the emergency guards, made up of the night force and five tear gas men were sent into the prison was not explained.

Warden Woodward and his chief deputy, August Piak, went behind the walls at the breakfast hour. The 42 night guards were ordered to remain in "the bull pen" for use in event of any eventuality. News men were permitted inside the first gate only.

Without warning, Guard Captain Odel Prownfelter ordered the news men out into a corridor. Then the tear gas squad, accompanied by five night guards, were ushered through the yard gate. They went toward one of the cell blocks under the west wall.

Stage Strike Protest
Earlier Piak expressed the belief the striking convicts would refuse to go to work in the prison shops today. They walked out Monday as a protest against what they termed delay on the part of the parole board in releasing convicts.

Col. Gilson Light of the Ohio National Guard, Governor Davey's observer at the prison since the ouster of Warden Preston E. Thomas, arrived shortly after the night guard force went behind the walls.

Col. Light was ready to lay bare Gov. Davey the strikers' grievances against the state parole board, charges that the board had not been fair and that the indeterminate sentence law saps the morale of prisoners.

Describing what he called discrimination, one convict spokesman yesterday said: "A man left here recently after serving 15 years for stealing chickens, his case having been continued from time to time. Another committed a most heinous crime, rape, and he served only ten months."

Lost Whiskers, Also a Commissionership

Chicago, April 17 —(AP)—It takes something besides lack of whiskers to win an election.

Carl L. Fiedler, who outdistanced one of his opponents in a recent primary for nomination as a candidate for commissioner in suburban Chicago Heights, after he had accepted a date to come out from behind a growth of whiskers of many years standing, was unsuccessful in yesterday's election.

Americans Held in Paris Jail for Sixteen Months, are Freed Today

Paris, April 17 —(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon Switz, Americans held for 16 months on espionage charges, were freed today.

The release of the American couple was made on the basis of a French law which grants clemency to accused persons who turn state's evidence.

Mr. and Mrs. Switz, originally alleged by the French police to have been ringleaders in a spy ring, were said during the course of the investigation to have assisted the authorities by revelations of alleged accomplices.

HORNER TURNS ON HEAT SEEKING TAX BILLS

Bosses from Cook Co. in Springfield to Put on Pressure

Springfield, Ill., April 17 —(AP)—"The heat is on."

That was the word which spread like wild fire in legislative circles today as assembly members discussed two developments in the much muddled relief situation.

Present in Springfield were Patrick A. Nash, Cook county Democratic boss, and Al Horan, bailiff of the municipal court of Chicago, two men whose ability to swing reluctant legislators into line has been demonstrated in the past.

With Nash and Horan on the scene came word that federal officials have informed Illinois Emergency Relief Commission members that federal aid would not be forthcoming in May unless the assembly had, by that time, provided the $3,000,000 monthly they have demanded as the state's share of the relief load.

Leaders Chagrined.

Chagrined at the beating given the administration relief measures in the house last week—the bills to increase the sales tax to three per cent and include utilities within its scope—the administration was marshaling all its forces to recover lost ground.

Senate Democrats were called into a caucus with Governor Horner late yesterday and the situation canvassed. The meeting was resumed today and again delayed until afternoon.

The fate of measures identical to those killed in the house were discussed.

When the caucus ended it was learned that all participating had been sworn to secrecy.

Another caucus of Democratic senators was called for 2 P. M. They admitted privately the necessary votes for emergency passage of the relief bills had not been rounded up, although administration strategists were hard at work.

Twelve Votes Short.

It was determined that 22 of the 24 senators attending had agreed to support the three per cent sales tax.

This leaves administration forces 12 short of the necessary number to obtain senate passage or, four short if it is ultimately determined to drop the emergency clause and let the impost become effective July 1.

At present the leaders are not concerning themselves with the house, where the opposition forces scored a victory last week. Their present plans call for senate passage—then they will set about putting the house in shape for similar action.

Senator Charles W. Baker, Monroe Center Republican, was ready to press for consideration of his resolution for an investigation of alleged Communist teachings at the University of Chicago. Baker introduced the resolution late yesterday, but the Democratic conference on relief prevented action.

Baker said his proposed investigation would be broad enough to permit it to extend to all colleges and universities receiving tax support or exemptions.

The house held another hearing on the new insurance code, with Director Ernest Palmer meeting opposition from some sources. No decision was reached.

Funeral of George Beck Thursday P. M.

(Special Telegraph Service)
Polo, April 17—The funeral of George Beck, whose death was announced in Tuesday evening's Telegraph, will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at his late home and at 2:30 at the Evangelical church, Rev. S. G. Eberly of Chadwick, a former Polo pastor, assisted by Rev. Arthur Warner of the local church, will officiate, and burial will be at Brookville.

Paris, April 17 —(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon Switz, Americans held for 16 months on espionage charges, were freed today.

The release of the American couple was made on the basis of a French law which grants clemency to accused persons who turn state's evidence.

Mr. and Mrs. Switz, originally alleged by the French police to have been ringleaders in a spy ring, were said during the course of the investigation to have assisted the authorities by revelations of alleged accomplices.

In pronouncing sentence today on 24 defendants on trial, the court recognized the guilt of the couple in the spy ring activities but said that under article 10 of the espionage law they were "exempted from punishment."

Heavy sentences were meted out to the other defendants. Benjamin Berocowitz, a naturalized Canadian, was sentenced to five years imprisonment and fined 3,000 francs (about $200). Louis Martin was sentenced to five years imprisonment, as was Octave Dumoulin, the latter also being fined 3,000 francs. Maurice Milice was ordered jailed four years and fined 3,000 francs; Moise Gorin was ordered jailed 10 months and fined 1500 francs.

BROWN SHINGLES LICENSE TAKEN UP BY CO. DADS

Judiciary Committee of Board Revokes Liquor Permit

The judiciary committee of the board of supervisors met at the court house yesterday with Chairman William F. Burhenn, and revoked the beer license issued to E. R. Frazier, proprietor of the Brown Shingle tavern, west of Dixon on the Lincoln Highway. Chief Deputy Sheriff Gilbert Finch informed the proprietor of the road house of the action of the county liquor administration.

The action followed a special meeting of the judiciary committee and chairman of the board of supervisors who conferred with Sheriff Ward Miller and State's Attorney Edward Jones. Sheriff Miller reported to the committee the result of his investigation of conditions existing in road houses in the vicinity of Dixon at an early hour Sunday morning. It was reported that the sheriff upon visiting the Brown Shingle about 12:30 Sunday morning, found beer being sold from the bar in presence of the proprietor.

Other proprietors of road houses in the vicinity of Dixon appeared before the judiciary committee complaining about the provisions of the resolution adopted by the county board at last week's special organization meeting, which was drafted for the control and regulation of these places. There were threats of injunction proceeding being instituted against the county board members, when objections were filed with the committee to the provision of the resolution which rules that dancing shall not be permitted in places to which liquor licenses are issued. Some of the members of the committee invited injunction action for the purpose of determining the jurisdiction of the board in the drafting of regulations.

TEACHERS OATH COMPULSION IS THROUGH HOUSE

Passed 126 to 5 as J. Devine Called it Discriminatory

Springfield, Ill., April 17 —(AP)—The O'Grady bill requiring teachers in public and private schools to take an oath of allegiance to the federal and state constitutions was passed today by the Illinois house on a 126 to 5 roll call.

Speaker John P. Devine, one of the handful opposing the bill on the roll call that sent it to the senate, said it unjustly discriminates against teachers.

Edward P. O'Grady, Chicago Democrat, was one of many representatives who made patriotic speeches during the long debate. The bill was supported by the American Legion.

"I have no knowledge of any school teacher being disloyal," Devine said. "If this bill required each public employee to take an oath of allegiance, I would be for it."

Others opposing the bill were Edward E. Laughlin, Prepost Republican who last week submitted an amendment to require all teachers to wear red, white and blue clothes; Robert H. Allison, Pekin Republican; Joseph W. Russell, Roberts Democrat and F. W. Lewis, Robinson Democrat.

Laughlin, who had been condemned by supporters of the bill for his ridiculing amendment, said the teachers' oath provision "smacks of Hitlerism."

Chicago, April 17 —(AP)—More than a dozen communities went on record as favoring sale of liquor to law as local option ballots were tabulated from yesterday's election. In the dry column three communities were listed.

In McLean county six towns went wet while Stanford and Saybrook voted down the sale of alcoholic beverages. Thompsonville, near Ben ton, voted dry 101 to 98. Hillsboro residents went on record in favor of liquor sales by a vote of 1,695 to 594. Other communities which went wet were Clinton, Butler, Oquawha, Passon, Davis, Leaf River and Des Plaines.

Employers Don't Have to Guard Health and Safety of Employees

Springfield, Ill., April 17 —(AP)—The section of the occupational disease act requiring employers to provide approved devices for the prevention of disease was held unconstitutional, in five opinions handed down today by the Illinois supreme court, on the ground that it violates the due process of law guarantees.

The court ruled the legislature failed to establish any standards by which compliance with the law could be measured and that the prescribing of regulations could not be delegated to the Department of Labor.

For similar reasons, the court also held unconstitutional two sections of the law requiring employers to provide for the health and safety of workers.

Chicago Mayor is Off on Another Vacation

Chicago, April 17 —(AP)—Safely inducted into office as Chicago's mayor, Edward J. Kelly left last night for San Francisco on a two week vacation. Accompanied by Mrs. Kelly, he planned to meet Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City at the west coast. A trip to Hawaii is a possibility, the Kellys' having made reservations at a Honolulu hotel.

A pledge of his support for a lake front airport was given by Kelly before he left. The project, estimated to cost about $8,500,000, would be financed by PWA money if approved by the federal government. A committee named by Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes has investigated the plan and reported against it.

It was signed by the Democratic chairmen of the five counties in the district.

Record Flight Completed Ahead of Its Schedule

Honolulu, April 17 —(AP)—The big Clipper plane "Pioneer" alighted on Pearl Harbor here at 12:27 P. M. (CST) today after a 2400 mile flight from Alameda, Cal.

The plane roared over Honolulu at 7:05 A. M. Honolulu time, setting a new record for the east to west crossing of the Pacific.

Gliding gracefully down in a wide circle, the Clipper split the waters of Pearl Harbor exactly three minutes before her scheduled landing time.

The ship had spent 53 minutes cruising over the city and adjacent cane fields.

Cut Time Seven Hours
It cut exactly seven hours from the best time made in the six previous crossings from California.

Commander Knellner McGinnis led a mass flight of six navy planes to the islands Jan. 11, 1934, in 24 hours and 45 minutes.

The Clipper, which left Alameda at 5:50 P. M. (CST) yesterday, reached almost 160 miles an hour at times.

Frequently, however, it slowed down to keep on its exact schedule. Weather conditions were unusually favorable for the flight, and the crew frequently messaged about the scenic beauty of the sunset and the moonlight as it skimmed through the clouds.

Majestic In Flight
Majestic in its flight, the Clipper dipped a greeting to the thousands of residents who gathered early to await its arrival.

Captain Musick shot her along the comparatively choppy channel for a short distance, then turned and headed into position before the concrete ramp.

As the plane taxied to the pier, it was hailed before about 1,000 cheering spectators.

Commander Wayne Toed of the fleet air base, accompanied by Co. Clarence M. Oung and J. Parker Vail Zandt, local manager for Pan American Airways, greeted Captain Edwin C. Musick.

Made Elaborate Tests
The plane pioneer appeared over Honolulu at 9:38 A. M. (Pacific Standard Time) (12:37 P. M. Eastern Standard Time).

Performed Perfectly
The ship passed over Diamond Head, flying high and fast, escorted by one swift navy pursuit plane. All four motors roared as the trans-Pacific trail blazing ship swung over the city.

Wave of Warmer Weather Counted to Prevent the Fruit Crop Losses

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A wave of warmer weather was counted on by fruit growers in the country's cold belt today to dissipate the possibility of extensive crop losses.

Higher temperatures in most of the midwest, where the cold snap began earlier in the week sneaking rapidly to the east and south, were predicted by the weather bureau.

More moderate temperature readings were also forecast for the east, and for the southern states included in the cold area, but chilly weather, with snow, threatened to hang on in New England.

New York City looked for a drop to a mid-April record of 28 above zero, however, before snow flurries give way to cloudiness with rising temperatures.

A blanket of from one to four inches of snow covered various parts of Pennsylvania. Temperatures got down as low as 10 above zero. The snow extended as far south as Maryland, North Carolina and Virginia. Richmond, Va., reported yesterday's snow the heaviest since 1898.

It was so cold in Washington and Detroit that it was necessary to postpone the opening 1935 major league baseball games.

Meanwhile scattered dust storms continued to plague residents in the southwest. The remnants of one of the storms swept down into Arizona, bringing higher temperatures.

Tuttle Asked to Leave.
With the acceptance of Mr. Phelps, the final group of four were sworn and after brief conference with counsel, Judge Edwards asked Tuttle to leave the jury box, stating that a condition had arisen which made it necessary to excuse him. Filling the second chair in the first group selected Monday then proceeded.

John Schmidt, Amboy farmer, was excused by the defense. Lester Reid, Amboy farmer; Clarence Shaver, Dixon salesman, and Edward O'Malley, Dixon farmer, were sworn.

Charles Hunter, Ashton electrician, was accepted by both the state and prosecution this morning, filling the place vacated by the dismissal of Arthur Tuttle of Amboy, to complete the jury which will try Charles Skinner of Amboy for the murder of Miss Olive Derwent, high school student, on the night of January 30.

Two days and a half were required in completing the jury and considering the delays and recesses, in which the court reporter submitted questions and answers to the defendant and his counsel it is considered exceptionally good time has been made.

After the selection of the final juror and the administration of the oath by Circuit Clerk E. S. Rosecrans, the jury was excused from the court room and attorneys conferred with the court. Opening arguments began this afternoon at 1:30 and these were to be followed by the presentation of lists of state and defense witnesses, about 100 in all having been summoned.

Attorney Oscar E. Heard, Jr., of Freeport, who has had years of experience in court reporting, was present this morning alternating with Mrs. Anna Moore in reporting the progress of the trial.

The jury which was sworn to try the issues to be presented is composed of the following members:

Champe Barth, Dixon; W. H. Meppin, Dixon; Ezra Schreck, Paw Paw; L. L. Kiser, Harmon; Alvin Brammer, East Grove; Robert Cross, Paw Paw; J. W. Thompson, Lee Center; Grover Hoberg, Dixon; Oscar Hasselberg, Lee Center; Levi Mehlbrecht, West Brooklyn; Arthur Phelps, Dixon; and Charles Hunter, Ashton.

At 10:30 the final four jurors had been accepted and sworn to try the case. Counsel conferred with Judge Edwards briefly after which Arthur Tuttle, Amboy plumber and heating contractor, the second juror to be selected in the first group on Monday, was excused. It was rumored about the court room since the acceptance of the first four jurors that the defense would later enter its objection to Tuttle's retention.

John Schlessinger, Brooklyn township juror, who was called to the jury box just before the close of the Tuesday afternoon session,

Freeport Hotel was Shaken by Explosion

(Telegraph Special Service)
Freeport, April 17—A gas range in the kitchen at the Licondo hotel exploded this morning about 6:30 and the force of the blast threw William Pappas, chef, into an adjoining room and rendered him unconscious. He was rushed to the hospital where he soon after regained consciousness and examination revealed no serious injuries. He was expected to return to his duties late today. The stove was blown to pieces and plaster was loosened by the blast and fell, breaking dishes. Three waitresses were on duty in the dining room at the time but were uninjured. This afternoon it was reported that the damage was nominal and was covered by insurance.

Will you investigate our Accident Insurance Policy. No one can afford to be without it. Evening

Clipper Clipped—

A crowd had gathered to watch the arrival of the trans-Pacific plane.

As Honolulu prepared a welcome for the plane and its crew of six men, the Pan American radio operator in the islands sent a message to the clipper saying:

"I am hanging grass skirts on the radio poles so you'll know when you get to Honolulu."

Its crew of six saw nothing but clouds below them after the sun set last night, and early today another solid wall of clouds also obscured the sky.

They did not need to see anything but their instruments on the 2400 mile flight for they were in constant communication with radio stations in Alameda and Honolulu and periodically with Miami, Fla. Before them they had the most modern set of instruments for aerial navigation which permitted them to tell their exact position within 100 feet.

Exactly on Schedule

Although capable of a cruising speed of around 160 miles an hour the plane slowed down to scarcely more than 100 after passing the halfway mark shortly before midnight, and followed a zigzag course to permit elaborate tests and so as not to arrive in Honolulu before breakfast time.

Without incident the plane lifted its 41,000 pounds into the air at 5:30 P. M., Central Standard Time yesterday and soon was lost to sight through the Golden Gate, exit for the planes in six other successful California - Hawaii flights.

Three thousand gallons of gasoline and 300 gallons of oil, enough for a flight of 3200 miles, were aboard, with 102 pounds composed of 10,000 letters from philatelists all over the world.

The Clipper traveled the 2400 miles in 17 hours and 47 minutes making a new flight record for the distance.

The plane arrived in the bright sunlight of a Hawaiian morning, breaking through clouds which had overhung the Island of Oahu at dawn.

Navy patrol ships which went out a few minutes before the arrival as an escort were circling outside Honolulu harbor as the Clipper came over Diamond Head.

Exactly on Schedule

The Clipper flew over the center of Honolulu exactly on schedule, which called for arrival at 7:05 A. M. (Honolulu time).

SOCIETY

The Cinema, Was Discussed Before Phidians

Mrs. Frank Edwards was hostess to the Phidian Art Club Tuesday. The club members appreciated a report by Mrs. Lucia Roberts concerning the thirty-six children cared for by the welfare funds of the Phidian Art and the Woman's Clubs.

The paper for the afternoon, by Miss Nichols, was a most interesting and detailed discussion of the cinema.

This popular art began with the "kinescope," in 1894, a production of fifty-eight feet which lasted thirteen seconds. The work of Griffith, around 1907, was of outstanding importance in developing this industry which "brings action to graphic art."

California became the logical home of the cinema, because it is adapted to all scenic demands.

Miss Nichols spoke of the many types of work required by the cinema, as well as the many types of actors and plays used. "David Copperfield" and "Becky Sharpe," were mentioned as outstanding current productions.

Tea was served with Mrs. W. H. Coppins and Mrs. A. H. Lancaster pouring.

Honor Birthday of Mrs. C. Gonnerman

On Friday evening at the spacious home of Mrs. James Boyer a happy surprise was held in honor of Mrs. Christine Gonnerman's birthday. A clever scheme was planned by her bridge club and on her arrival at the Boyer home, the members descended the stairs all singing the popular "Happy Birthday" song. After congratulations and much merriment all enjoyed the evening of bridge following.

The prizes were awarded to Mrs. Arthur Barnett and Mrs. John Thomas. Mrs. Gonnerman was remembered by the club with a beautiful linen table cover for which she expressed her sincere appreciation. Delicious refreshments of pumpkin pie and whipped cream and coffee were served. The hostess then appeared with a birthday cake which she asked the guest of honor to cut.

A most enjoyable evening was spent by everyone present, after which the club members departed wishing Mrs. Gonnerman many happy returns of the day.

WHITE LINGERIE COLLARS SUPPLY FEMININE TOUCH

London—(AP)—The spirit of spring is emphasized in necklines now, the smartest of which are worn high.

Fresh white lingerie collars and cuffs introduce a feminine touch to the severest coattress.

A practical finish on a black or navy frock is a linen collar tied with narrow strings at the throat. The center is drawn thread work, the edge frilled.

Ruffles of lace or lawn are tied at the throat in "Scarlet Pimpernel" fashion. The tailored bows are often of dusty pink satin ribbon with a bow to match worn under the left side of the hat brim.

A LOOKING GLASS

By Joseph Fort Newton

THE world is like a looking-glass; the face we show to it it shows to us. No man ever shows more than a corner of himself to the world, and the world reflects, as in a mirror, the corner he shows.

No wonder the popular estimate of well-known persons is so often inaccurate, if not absurd. The general impression of a personality may be neither more nor less than a caricature—no matter.

An epithet will stick to a name when the noblest tribute is forgotten; a single phrase is enough to make or mar a reputation. An odd act, done off guard, can make a man ridiculous for life.

"Wait and see," said Asquith and the saying was the herald of victorious action; but it did much to drive him from office long afterwards. It is amazing how a little thing comes to stand for the whole man.

Take Bernard Shaw, one of the cleverest wits of our day, but he was recently voted Public Bore No. 1 of England, if not of the whole world. Yet Shaw is to blame for his own fate.

Years ago he took the world seriously, and the world laughed at him. That laugh seared his soul. Ever since he has refused to take the world seriously and has spent his whole life laughing at it.

One day he has made himself a kind of clown, aggressive, conceited, itching for publicity, laying claim to an omniscience that would astonish most dieties—a literary acrobat walking a tight rope.

But that is not the real Shaw—it is a myth, a pose, a strut. Shaw is no such man. He is physically snick, almost old-maidish, shy, awkward, blushing like a child; gentle, generous, lovable.

Who can describe the fineness, the fatuousness, the folly and fullness of him! Now a prophet, now a harlequin, he really suggests lavender and China tea served in faintly carved cups.

Yes, the world thinks of a man as he allows it to think of him. If he shows himself foolish he will give him no credit for wisdom. If he makes himself a clown it always expects a new trick!

Party Honors Mr. And Mrs. Fred Joynt

Forty friends gathered at the Ben Ryan home Tuesday evening to enjoy a party for the newly married couple, Fred Joynt, Wilbur Lumber Co. yard man and the former Vertie Buzzard of Eldena, his wife, who were married Saturday, April 13th, at Morrison. Cards and luncheon were enjoyed. Prizes were awarded to Will Dauntler for high score and Walter Brown, consolation prize.

At a late hour tempting refreshments were served after which Mrs. Sam Mall presented a lovely gift to the bride and groom with congratulations from all their friends. Mrs. Joynt expressed the appreciation of her husband and herself for the gift, and also thanked the Ryan family and friends for the enjoyable party held in their honor.

SPENDING EASTER VACATION HERE—

Advocate Program of Roadside Beautification This Summer

Roadside improvement might well be charged to tourist advertising, and the increased taxes brought into the communities by additional tourists paying their gas tax have been found to more than pay for recreational advertising, says a bulletin issued by the highway beautification contest committee of the Chicago Motor Club.

"Competition among the states and regions this summer will be keen," continued the bulletin. "With industry's dollar still far below par, the tourist's dollar looks good."

"The west and middle-western states have much to overcome to offset the inroads of the dust storms and the depressing effect they have on the tourist. One of the methods which would counteract the picture of hot, parched highways would be a program of roadside beautification. This program not only would help the present situation but would be of increasing benefit."

"Along town, county or city roads this need is even more acute, as the blowing sand and dust seep into houses even in normal seasons. Town or county roads might well be planted with community labor, just as the houses and barns in the early pioneer days were raised with community labor. Many communities have found the plan of asking all able-bodied men in the community to give one day's labor for roadside improvement has brought worthwhile results."

"Every man brings his own tools, and under the general direction of one leader, groups are given sections in which to prepare the soil, plant grass seed and native shrubs. Other groups are given the task of watering the plantings. In some enterprising projects the fire department has been called into service to do the watering job on a big scale."

"Common shrubs, or even flowers that are known as weeds, make gorgeous roadside displays, are economical, and if encouraged in mass plantings over extensive areas, are as effective in pleasing the motorist as the most costly exotics. Many sections are learning that clumps of goldenrod along the roadside are worth saving."

Mrs. William Lang Honored by Friends

Last evening Mrs. William Lang who with her husband, make their home with her mother, Mrs. Shaw, on Hennepin avenue, was honored by the members of her Sunday school class of the Methodist church, who called to spend the evening with her, as a farewell gathering. The class, by the way, is taught by Mrs. Shaw. Mr. and Mrs. Lang are leaving Dixon Sunday to make their future home in Peoria where he is engaged in refrigerator repair work.

The friends who called were well supplied with provisions for an appetizing supper and all greatly enjoyed the tempting repast. A pleasant social evening was spent and the guests then presented Mrs. Lang with a nice gift expressing their regret at her departure and hope for the happiness and success of the Langs in their new home. They have many friends here who trust they will return often to visit.

MISS MURRAY WILL SPEND VACATION HERE—

Mrs. W. G. Murray and Mrs. E. E. Shaw motored to Chicago Wednesday to spend the day and were accompanied home today by Miss Jean Murray, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Murray, who attends Northwestern University. Miss Murray will spend the Easter vacation at home in Dixon.

To Give Play In Walton April 24

The young people of St. Mary's parish, Walton, are busily preparing a home talent play to be held in the parish hall Wednesday evening, April 24th, at 7:45. The members of the cast are as follows: Leo Bushman, William Blackburn, Charles Dunphy, William Powers, Alice Brechon, Irene Daum, Helen Grohens, Lucille Morrissey, and Eileen Morrissey. The play is under the direction of Julia Brechon, Margaret Blackburn and Sadie Healy.

There will be songs between the acts by the male quartet composed of C. C. Ackert, Harold Healy, Patrick Lally and David McCaffrey, accompanied by Miss Julia Brechon at the piano. Mrs. Carl Ackert is directing the quartet.

Dancing will follow the play. Leake's orchestra will furnish the music for the dance. The admission will include both the play and the dance. Come and spend an enjoyable evening. Everybody welcome.

Two Weddings at Methodist Parsonage

Two weddings were celebrated at the parsonage of the Methodist church yesterday when Dr. Gilbert Stansell, the pastor, united the lives of Gordon G. Suter of Chana and Miss Goldie G. Gilroy of Franklin Grove; and Allen A. Smith of Welton, Ia. and Miss Julia S. Nims of Maquoketa, Iowa.

The STORY of EASTER

From Gethsemane, early on the first Good Friday, Jesus was taken before the priest Annas, and then before Caiaphas and the sanhedrin court, where, to the question, "Art Thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed?" He answered "I am." Meanwhile, Peter had three times denied to questioners that he was a disciple of Jesus. Then a cock crew and, remembering His prophecy, Peter wept in remorse. Soon afterward Judas, the traitor, flung his silver at the feet of the priests, and hanged himself. When Jesus, before Pilate, explained He was indeed a king, but that since His kingdom was not of this world, it would not clash with the Roman power, Pilate could find no reason to hold Him. But the priests and the multitude clamored and, badgered beyond his strength, Pilate asked the people, it being the custom to release one prisoner at Passover, if they would have Jesus. Refusing angrily, the multitude chose Barabbas. Pilate had our Lord scourged and crowned with thorns, intending then to free Him. But when, after Pilate cried to the crowd, "Behold the Man!" His pitiable condition failed to move them, Pilate's courage failed, and he delivered Jesus to them to be crucified.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

THIS IS A CORKING GOOD IDEA—

Now that everybody is knitting, it's a good thing to know how to keep the children or the kitten from being stabbed by the knitting needles you leave around. Simply have some tiny corks handy in your work basket and put one on the end of each needle when you stop using them. This will also insure against dropped stitches.

Shower for Miss Erickson on Saturday

On Saturday evening a miscellaneous shower attended by 25 guests was given for Miss Vergene Erickson of Chicago, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Friedrichs, south of Gap Grove.

Games and music were the diversions for the evening. Miriam Harms and Helen Friedrichs played and sang several selections.

The prize in the first contest "U Auto No" was won by Mrs. Wesley Ruit of Dixon, as she readily named all the makes of cars correctly. The second contest, a rather difficult one, in which the various Indian tribes were named was won by Mrs. Earl Ellmaker of Sterling. In the final contest in which each one was blindfolded it was found that Mrs. Al Boyer and Otto Erickson defeated the others.

After the contests each member wrote a suggestion to the bride-to-be, which caused much laughter, but perhaps it would be best not to follow all the advice given. A favorite recipe was also given Miss Erickson by the guests.

The most enjoyable part of the evening then came when Miriam Harms and Helen Friedrichs presented her with a large basket laden with useful and beautiful gifts from the guests. Refreshments were then served consisting of chicken sandwiches, pickles, cake and cocoa. Mesdames Ernest and Harold Swartley of Sterling and Mrs. Paul Harms of Palmyra assisted in the serving.

Miss Erickson is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Erickson of Sterling. She graduated from Sterling high school with the class of 1933, after which she took up beauty culture and is now employed as a beautician in Chicago. She will be married on April 27th to Darwyn Ziegler of Chicago, who holds a responsible position in that city. Their many friends wish them much happiness in the years to come.

Miss Brooks to Lecture Friday

On Friday afternoon, April 19th, at the Methodist church Miss Fannie Brooks, Health Specialist, will give a lecture on the subject "The Army Nurse in France During the War." Because of the Union prayer services the program will start promptly at 3 P. M. This is Miss Brooks final appearance in the county for the year and no one will wish to miss this meeting.

During the year Miss Brooks holds training schools throughout the county for the Home Bureau and those who have had the pleasure of hearing her advise a good attendance.

All patriotic organizations should attend.

PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD

— The Natural Laxative Food —

Q. No. 1—WHAT IS PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD?

A: Prun-O-Wheat is a new kind of bread containing concentrated Prune juice and flaked wheat—a safe, natural laxative food, wholesome, nourishing and good tasting.

Q. No. 2—IS PRUN-O-WHEAT A WHOLEWHEAT BREAD?

A: No, it is not! It contains both white flour and flaked wheat flour. Its only similarity to wholewheat bread is its color. Its flavor is different, sweeter, more fruity.

Q. No. 3—WHAT, THEN, GIVES PRUN-O-WHEAT ITS GOLDEN BROWN COLOR?

A: The color comes almost entirely from the large amount of rich concentrated prune juice used in this recipe. Without this, Prun-O-Wheat Bread would be almost white, except for the flakes of wheat.

Q. No. 4—WHAT GIVES PRUN-O-WHEAT ITS LAXATIVE?

A: Both rich concentrated prune juice and flaked wheat.

Q. No. 5—HOW DO YOU GET SUFFICIENT PRUNE JUICE INTO PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD TO ACTUALLY GIVE IT LAXATIVE QUALITIES?

A: By using prune juice in greatly concentrated form.

Q. No. 6—DOES PRUNE JUICE OR ITS CONCENTRATE LOSE FINE ITS LAXATIVE QUALITIES WHEN COMBINED WITH OTHER FOOD INGREDIENTS?

A: Absolutely NOT! As a result of extensive and published research conducted at the University of California, it has been clearly demonstrated that the laxative qualities of prunes and prune juice are not lost when combined with other ingredients.

Q. No. 7—DOES FLAKED WHEAT HAVE A LAXATIVE VALUE?

A: Yes, indeed, but it is far more efficient when properly blended with prune juice.

Q. No. 8—ARE THERE ANY DRUGS, CATHARTICS OR PURGATIVES ADDED TO THE PRUN-O-WHEAT RECIPE?

A: Emphatically No!

Q. No. 9—WILL TWO OR THREE SLICES OF PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD, EATEN AT ONE MEAL ONLY, ACT AS A LAXATIVE?

A: For best results we recommend that it be eaten at every meal. Remember, it is a gentle, regulative laxative food—not a drug or cathartic. To give Prun-O-Wheat Bread a proper test, try eating it regularly at each meal for fourteen days.

Q. No. 10—DOES PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD TASTE LIKE PRUNES?

A: Prun-O-Wheat has a delicious fruity flavor. Some people consider this a prune flavor, while others feel that the normal prune flavor is somewhat improved by thorough baking and careful blending with flaked wheat.

BEIER'S PRUN-O-BREAD is a gentle, regulative laxative food—not a drug or cathartic. If you suffer from chronic constipation, we recommend that you consult your family physician.

SMALL BUSINESS MAN PRESENTS A PROBLEM
The new NRA bill hangs fire in Congress while the lawmakers try to figure out the best way of taking the brakes off of business recovery without putting any further obstacles in the way of the small business man. And while their arguments fill the air, it is interesting to get the point of view of one of these much-discussed small business men. What is his slant on recovery, anyhow?

There came to attention the other day a letter from the owner of a modest shoe repair shop in Hornell, N. Y. He raises a point which illustrates one of the most difficult angles of the whole tangle.

"In 1926—my peak year," he writes, "I had a gross sales volume of $5913.60. In 1934—the same number of sales through the cash register—and a gross volume of business of $1668.60; the outcome of price reduction. No profit, and in the red."

"Naturally, I cannot buy as heavily or for future needs. I cannot make the necessary improvements in my home or new additions to the shop. Why? Because a grocery advertised soles and heels at 8 cents a pair. To meet that form of competition I would have to work a man for nothing, give my savings to the wholesaler and donate my services free of charge. Then they wonder why we have hard times and a depression!"

(It should be understood, of course, that the competition was selling merely the soles and heels, and was not attaching them to the customer's shoes for that price.)

In trying to think your way out of a dilemma like this, you come up against one of the most vexing contradictions of the day; the conflict between the consumer's desire for cheap retail prices which the economies of big business units make possible, on the one hand, and the necessity for preserving one of the fundamental features of the American landscape—the small shop in which the individual worker or retailer can find independence.

As consumers, we look for the lowest price levels available. If a big corporation offers us commodities at a price which the individual merchant cannot meet, we rush to the bargain counter and snap them up. Yet few of us care to picture an America in which the industrious and ambitious man can no longer branch out for himself and establish a little business of his own. That freedom of opportunity is one of our most prized national assets.

Somewhat we have got to find a way to harmonize this difficulty. A return to prosperity which squeezed out the small business man would cost more than it was worth. Whatever the answer may be—and it must be admitted that it isn't in sight, just off-hand—the pressure on units like this Hornell shoe repair shop must be lessened.

PITY THE POOR CONGRESSMAN

Washington dispatches say that a move is on foot among certain congressmen to cut short the work of the present session. One congressman is quoted as saying that Congress should adjourn after passing the NRA and social securities bills and voting the regular appropriation measures.

"If Mr. Roosevelt insists upon Congress enacting all the legislation he has proposed at this session," complained this congressman, "we will be in session until August."

This may be a potent argument with congressmen, but it will hardly impress the rest of the country so heavily. After all, there are some pretty important measures on the calendar—the banking bill, for instance, the drug bill, the utilities bill, the Wagner labor bill, and some others. Win or lose, these measures need final action at an early date.

If Congressmen have to stick around in Washington until August to do it—well, that's what they were elected for, isn't it?

PROGRESS IN 75 YEARS

The day of the famous pony express across the western plains seems as far away from us as the day of the Roman emperors. But time somehow gets telescoped, in America. The 75th anniversary of the first trip of the pony express was celebrated just the other day—a surprising reminder that there are living men who can actually remember back to that distant, legendary period.

What a contrast between the old and the new this celebration displayed! The pony express riders strained every nerve and sinew to make the trip from St. Joseph, Mo., to the west coast in a matter of weeks.

Today airplanes cover the distance in less than a day. The laziest auto tourist can make the trip in a third of the time the hard-riding old-timers required.

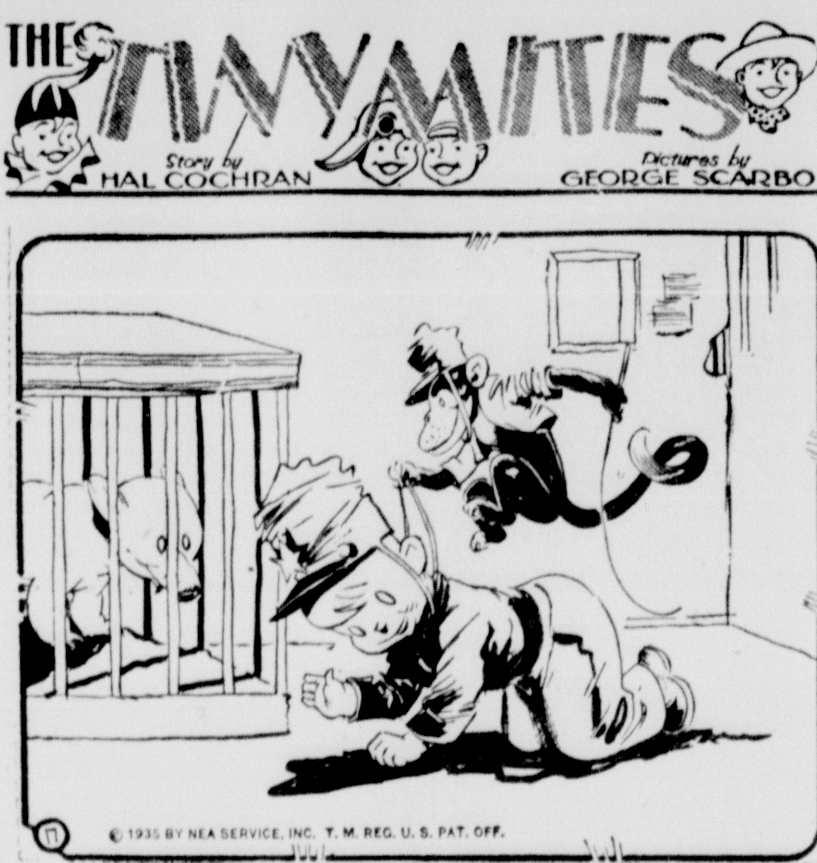

That contrast is a measure of the almost unbelievable physical progress that the country has made in the last three-quarters of a century.

PAYING FOR CIVIL WAR

If you have ever doubted that wars are almost unimaginably expensive, consider this fact; today, seventy full years after the close of the Civil War, the federal government is still paying out $5,000,000 a month to settle the cost of that conflict.

Seventy years add up to a long, long time. Since the last shot was fired in the war between the states, children have been born, grown to old age and died—and all that while the nation's purse has been steadily and heavily drained to pay the bills.

Most of the $5,000,000 paid out each month goes to veterans and veterans' dependents in the form of pensions. This expenditure grows progressively less each year, of course, and it will vanish entirely before so very long. But it is appalling, even so, to reflect on the length of time war costs can hang on. Our grandfathers fought that war; we're still paying for it.

The hippo made the Tinies smile. Said Coppy, "In a little while, I'll have that fellow doing stunts, unless I miss my guess."

"The rest of you stand back and gaze upon my very clever ways of making friends with animals. I'm good, I must confess."

"All right, but be real careful, son, or it may not be such fine fun," said Scouty. "Sometimes, hippos are as cross as they can be."

"In circuses I've heard them snort, and when they do it's not much sport," "Don't worry, answered Coppy. "This one will not snort at me."

"Then, right up to the cage he went, and as the others watched, he spent about five minutes patting the fat hippo on the side."

"This pleased the beast, we Coppy knew. It was a real smart thing to do. Then Coppy opened up the cage. "Come out of there," he cried.

It waddled out. My, what a sight. The Tinies laughed with all their might. "Hey, make him run," cried Goldy. "He's so fat, I'll bet he can't."

But, when we Coppy ran a bit, the hippo started doing it. In fact it tired poor Coppy out. The lad began to pant.

"Oh, that's enough! You've done your share. Back to your cage! It's over there," he shouted at the hippo, and the animal obeyed.

"Say, that was swell!" cried Doty. "You should find some other tricks to do. You must have magic powers, lad, the way that fat beast played."

Just then a monkey, dressed real cute, among the bunch began to scoot. Wee Coppy dropped down to his knees and yelled, "Hey, have a ride."

The little beast jumped on his back and with a whip, gave a crack. Wee Windy laughed so hard he rolled right over on his side.

OBITUARY

FRANK S. HART

(Contributed)

The community was shocked Saturday morning to learn of the sudden death of Frank S. Hart. Although he had not enjoyed good health for the past two years, his last illness was of only a few hours duration. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the home and at the Ashton Presbyterian church, with Rev. C. P. Blekking officiating, interment being made in the Ashton cemetery. Numerous business associates from northern Illinois were among the large attendance of friends at the funeral.

Frank S. Hart, the second son of Charles D. and Katherine S. Hart, prominent pioneer settlers, was born in Bradford township on May 31st, 1875, and grew to manhood on his father's farm. After attending Dixon college, he taught the Hark school in Bradford township for two years. On Nov. 12, 1901, he was married to Emma S. Wagner, also of Bradford township. Most of his life he engaged in raising livestock, farming, and dealing in real estate. In 1912 he removed to Ashton to enable him to devote more of his time to his real estate business. While in Ashton he served two terms as township supervisor and for twelve years was a member of the village board of education. Faithful and devoted to his wife and family he found great joy in his home-life. The deceased was a member of the Ashton Presbyterian church, a charter member of the I. O. O. F., A. F. & A. M., O. E. S.; and was a trustee of the library fund.

He is survived by his devoted wife, their three sons, Raymond D., Richard W., and F. Stanley; his two sisters, Mrs. M. N. Glenn and Miss Lucy Hart, both of Ashton; his two brothers, Charles J. of Dixon and William H. of Ashton; several nieces, nephews, cousins and a host of friends. The members of his family who preceded him were his father, Charles D. who died in 1897, his sister, Mabel M., who died in 1901, his brother Henry S. in 1916 and his mother, on April 17th 1934.

The deceased will be greatly missed by the family, his business associates and by the large circle of friends whom his sterling character and neighborliness had made for him during his long residence in Ashton and Bradford townships.

Funeral services were held from the home of his mother, Mrs. Julia Bradley, on Saturday morning, April 13th at nine o'clock and nine-thirty at St. Patrick's Catholic church with Father Green officiating at a Requiem High Mass, with burial in Oakwood cemetery beside his father who died less than two years ago.

He leaves to mourn his untimely death, his grief-stricken mother, two sons, John and Neiland, one son James also preceded him in death in infancy, three brothers, John, William and Edward, all of Dixon, one brother and one sister, Mary and Leo, preceded him in death in infancy, besides a host of friends. James was an intelligent young man and loved by all who knew him. He was born April 19, 1897 and died at the age of 37 years, 10 months and 9 days. The bereaved family have the sincerest condolence of many friends. The pallbearers were John Burke, William Kennedy, Leo Curran, Jay Farley, Joe Mahan and Edward Doyle. Those who attended the funeral from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Bradley of Chicago, Mrs. James Bradley and daughter, Helen of Sterling and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bradley of Amboy.

And so in a moment he left us To dwell in that happier land. With never a thought or look backward, Obeying his Master's command.

All is dark within our dwelling, Lonely are our hearts today, James, whom we loved so dearly, Has forever passed away.

JACOB F. BECKER

Jacob F. Becker of Sublette, formerly of May township, and a life-long resident of Lee county, passed away Monday morning, April 15, 1935, at 10:30 o'clock at his home in Sublette, death ending a short illness. His passing came as a severe shock to his many friends, who were aware of his sickness but did not consider his condition as being critical.

He was born in May township, the son of Jacob and Catherine Langraf Becker and spent his entire life in that township and in Sublette. He was 72 years, 4 months and 13 days of age at the time of his death.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary E. Auchstetter Becker; four sons and two daughters: Anton F., Mrs. Charles Full, Jacob A., William J., Elizabeth of Maytown and Charles M. of Sublette.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from our Lady of Perpetual Help church in Sublette. Rev. F. Joseph Wettkamp officiating and with interment in St. Mary's cemetery.

DAILY HEALTH

WISDOM TEETH AND THEIR COMPLICATIONS

A dental surgeon, curious about the experience of his confreres with wisdom teeth and their complications, sent out a questionnaire and thus collected the records of 700 cases.

A review of what was reported shows that "the complications attending the maleruptions of the third molar (or wisdom tooth) vary from minor discomforts to grave illnesses and even to death."

Apparently both sexes are affected alike. No age is exempt. The range of patients' ages was from 14 to 84.

The symptoms of maleruption of wisdom teeth fall into two main groups: those attributable to pressure or reflex irritation, and those which arise from infections developing in the soft tissues about the wisdom tooth.

The variety of complications, non-fatal in character, which were reported make interesting reading. Apparently every kind and variety of condition including sleeplessness, indigestion, epilepsy-like seizures, and depression, have been attributed to the reflex irritation of mal-erupted wisdom teeth.

Just why the third molar is subject to this defective development is not understood. We do not know how to assure its normal growth and eruption. Hence, "preventive" attention is urged.

The position of the wisdom tooth and the probability of its normal or abnormal development can be determined by means of the X-ray at the ages between 9 and 11. If the position of the tooth is bad and it does not promise to come forth normally, some experts advise its prompt extraction. At this time the extraction is comparatively easy.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Troop 116 (12) taken over by the American Legion, held a meeting with good attendance, despite the downpour last Thursday evening.

The major event was a talk by Mr. Keithley, dealing with neckerchief slides. Mr. Keithley explained how to make various types of slides from bone, horn, or any such article. He has a very fine collection of neckerchief slides, and the boys were greatly impressed by the talk.

Scoutmaster Handell displayed the new golden and blue neckerchief for Troop 116, and the style and color were readily adapted. The general review and discussion of the flag tenderfoot pin and laws was made. After this a spirited game was played. The meeting adjourned at 9 o'clock.

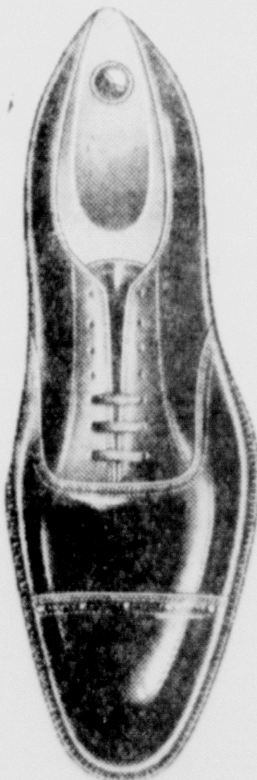

THE HALL OF FAME.

The Hall of Fame was the conception of Dr. Henry MacCracken, then chancellor of the New York university, the council of which, on March 5, 1900, accepted a gift of $100,000, afterward increased to $250,000, from Mrs. F. J. Shepard (Helen Gould) for the erection and completion on University Heights, New York city, of a building to be called "The Hall of Fame for Great Americans."

STATE HOSPITAL HERE SECOND IN ITS RESTORATION

Peoria Only One to Exceed in Number of Repaired Articles

Over a period of one month the Dixon State Hospital rates second high in a list of nineteen Illinois state institutions who mend and restore to use articles valuable to these institutions.

The Peoria State Hospital mended and restored 23,100 articles and the Dixon State Hospital repaired 21,424. The only other state hospital to repair more than 20,000 articles for further use was the Kankakee State Hospital which renovated 20,056.

Through the mending and repair on wholesale proportions of these goods, the institutions under the supervision of the department of public welfare, annually save the state large sums. In the sewing rooms, linen rooms, tailor shops and on the wards of the various institutions, the clothing and linen used by them are given repair service and the usefulness of worn or torn articles is thus prolonged.

Aid to Economy

This has been of great aid to the economic administration of the department, especially in the present situation, when a larger population than ever before must be cared for on a curtailed budget.

As a part of the "exchange system" of handling clothing which has been installed in all but two or three of the state institutions since January 1, 1935, a more uniform system of recording the amount of mending done, is now being established.

Following is an enumeration of the articles mended and restored in one month's time.

Dust Again Swirling Across Western Plains Brings Death

This was a horse, and he pulled willingly and faithfully on his master's Texas farm until drouth and dust storms came. There was no water and no feed. And he died. Soon his bones will be but part of the dust that is again sweeping the southwest in the most terrible scourge that has struck agricultural America in generations.

And Desolation as Impoverished Farmers Flee in Despair

This was a farmstead, but after three crop failures everything this Texas farmer possesses is on this truck. He's leaving his acres in the drouth-and-dust area for good, to seek a home and a living wherever he may find it. Years of hard work have crumbled behind him—into dust.

Starts Fight Today to Secure "Justice" for Public Schools

Springfield, Ill., April 17—(AP)—Rep. Hugh Cross, Jerseyville Republican Tuesday charged the State Auditor's office with "utter disregard and violation of the law" by giving Cook county more than its proportionate share of the state school distributive fund.

Cross declared that for three years—under Auditor Edward J. Barret and his predecessor, Oscar Nelson—Cook county received 85 per cent of the amount due and the downstate territory 64 per cent.

Cook county has paid but 67 per cent of its state taxes, Cross said, while the 101 other counties paid 93 per cent of their state taxes.

Cross, a member of the educational commission now studying the state public school system with a view of suggesting a plan for reorganization, introduced a bill appropriating $3,574,049.93 to the 101 downstate counties—the amount he said was necessary to give them the same percentage of school distributive funds already received by Cook county.

FIRE IN GRATE FOR 133 YEARS

For 133 years a fire has burned in a grate in the isolated Saltersgate inn near Pickering, England, and it probably will burn for another 100. The blaze was lighted in the days of the stage coach and never has gone out. In the olden times passengers arrived at all hours of the day and night and always demanded a fire at which they could get warm. The inn keeper decided it was better to keep the fire always burning than to start it afresh when he heard the coach horn. When railways succeeded coaches, no one thought the extinguishing it.

Scrap of Paper is Potential Fortune

Joliet, Ill. April 17—(AP)—A yellowed scrap of paper which William Wright, Jr., found while rummaging through the effects of his late grandfather Tuesday had the possibility of bringing him a small fortune.

The paper was a note made out to the grandfather, Daniel Prickett, in 1840, when he was treasurer of the Illinois & Michigan Canal board of trustees. It was signed by Jacob Fry and W. F. Thornton, officers of the canal board, and promised to pay Prickett $100 and interest at 6 per cent upon presentation.

Wright wrote to the city council of Lockport, Ill., asking for advice. Paul E. Prutsman, Lockport City Attorney, figured that with compound interest the note now calls for $32,896.

Prutsman turned the inquiry over to John Walter, collector for the Illinois & Michigan canal, which is still in operation. Walter has written to Wright for more details, and indicated there is a good chance for Wright to collect on the 95-year old note.

RECORDS REIGNS

Louis XVI's reign of 72 years, from 1643 to 1715, is the longest in modern history. King Pepi II of the sixth Dynasty ascended the throne about 2566 B. C., at the age of six and reigned for more than 90 years. Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary reigned nearly 68 years; Queen Victoria of Great Britain nearly 64 years; George III of Great Britain 60 years, Pedro II of Brazil 58 years.

Passengers, Crew of Plane Uninjured in Crackup at Detroit

Detroit, April 17—(AP)—Six passengers, two pilots and a stewardess escaped injury Tuesday when an American Airways transport plane faltered in a takeoff at the Detroit city airport and crashed into a tree.

The plane was bound from Chicago to New York and was taking off for Buffalo when the accident occurred. Airway officials said the ship had risen about 25 feet when both motors went dead. Pilot Usher Roush, 38, Chicago, nosed it down to a glide and the plane ripped away 25 feet of fence at the western boundary of the port, then continued into a field where one wing struck a tree.

The passengers were taken to the Saratoga General hospital for examination.

There is no need for a lot of whangdoodle talk about cigarettes
—just plain common-sense

When you stop to think about your cigarette—what it means to you—here's about the way you look at it—

Smoking a cigarette gives a lot of pleasure—it always has.

People have been smoking and enjoying tobacco in some form or another for over 400 years.

Of course you want a cigarette to be made right. And naturally you want it to be mild. Yet you want it to have the right taste—and plenty of it.

In other words—you want it to Satisfy.

Scientific methods and ripe mild tobaccos make Chesterfield a milder and better-tasting cigarette. We believe you will enjoy them.

Selected Chairman.

Supervisor William H. Burhenn of Bradford township, living just south of town, was selected chairman by a unanimous vote of the members of the county board of supervisors for the ensuing year, at the special organization session. Will has just a lot of friends in this community who will rejoice with him in having this honor bestowed upon him, and he is justly proud of the fact that his election was unanimous, showing his popularity among his fellow supervisors. Charles Ramsdell, supervisor of China township, was placed on the following committees at the meeting by the new chairman: County Home, of which he is chairman; Fees and Salaries and Special Bovine. Supervisor Ramsdell has served on the board several years and his re-election shows very clearly that the majority of voters were satisfied with him.

W. C. T. U. Notes

The W. C. T. U. met on April 12, with Mrs. Henry Hicks, with a good attendance. The meeting opened with devotional service led by Mrs. Mary Wolf, using Psalm 67 as the Scripture. Group singing, using two songs from the White Ribbon Hymnal, was followed by roll call, "A Memory Gem."

The business session followed, with discussion of various activities for the future. The matter of again sponsoring a Loyal Temperance Legion organization among the children during the summer months, was taken up and all were agreed that it should be done. A committee will have the matter in charge and definite plans will be perfected soon.

As a part of the state activities, each union is asked to contribute toward a $25,000 temperance educational fund to be used within the state of Illinois; this being a part of the $500,000 national fund for this purpose. The liquor business claims to have a $20,000,000 publicity fund. The dry forces have no such amount available, but we believe that through a united effort of all, we can bring to every community in various ways, the real facts concerning alcohol as a beverage, and what it is doing to people everywhere. An educational fund has been started in the local W. C. T. U., to which we are asking every member to contribute as she is able; also every person in the community who is interested in this cause. All contributions will go directly into the state fund for alcohol education, to be used for this purpose only. The W. C. T. U. president, Mrs. C. W. Lahman, or the treasurer, Mrs. William Holly, will be glad to take your contribution, large or small, and send it on to headquarters. This is the major activity of the W. C. T. U. for the next few years.

The subject of the status of local option in the state and community was discussed at some length. Petitions have recently been received, signed and returned to state headquarters, asking that a county local option law may be passed by the legislature and put into effect, whereby an entire county may vote on the question, if desired; also that the law concerning a township vote on local option may be clarified so that we may have a decision as to whether such a vote as was taken in China township and many others in the state, shall apply to the entire territory included within the township.

The program of the day, "Our Young People," was most ably presented by the leader, Mrs. O. D. Buck, the material being taken from the Union Signal. Here are just a few of the high points:

A former U. S. official in a message to the senior class of his college wrote this: "The one thought and ambition of every college man should be to be a public official without vice, a private citizen without wrong, a neighbor without reproach, a Christian without hypocrisy, a man without guile, submissive to law, obedient to authority, thoughtful and kind, and above all, loyal to country and self."

A fine ideal for all young people, whether in or out of college!

Dr. Lorenz, eminent European surgeon, says this: "I cannot say that I am a temperance agitator, but I am a surgeon. My success depends on my brains being clear, my muscles firm, and my nerves steady; no one can take alcoholic liquor without blunting these physical powers, which I must always keep on edge. As a surgeon, I must not drink."

Washington, April 17—(AP)—As Senator Harrison (D. Miss.) sought to complete a compromise bonus bill which he said would have President Roosevelt's approval, an informal warning was given at the White House Tuesday against committing the chief executive to any legislation of that type.

It was said at the White House that Roosevelt would speak when and if the bonus bill is sent to him for signing or disapproval.

The prediction of Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, that Roosevelt would send a message to the senate on the bonus failed to receive affirmation at the White House.

Roosevelt said last week he might send a message and he might not and there it stood today.

The PRESIDENT WHO BECAME KING

EIGHT hundred curses hang over the head of Achmed Beg Zogu, ruler of Albania, for shots are taken at him wherever he goes, yet this dashing ruler of an unruly people has brought the first signs of civilization to his country. King Zog, as he is known, is the only bachelor king in Europe. He became president of Albania in 1925 and three years later made himself king. Recently he came into world news when he announced he was seeking a bride with a million dollars. He still is seeking.

Several of Albania's postal issues display the features of this 40-year-old ruler.

MUNICIPALITIES OF STATE CHOSE NEW OFFICIALS

Results of Elections in Scores of Cities of State Yesterday

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Voters of scores of Illinois municipalities turned out in throngs yesterday that rolled up record smashing votes in many communities where local issues stirred interest to fever heights, the majority of candidates running on non-partisan tickets.

The only disorder reported was a slugging and two beatings in Niles Center, suburb northwest of Chicago, where Charles M. Holmes, former police chief, suffered a broken nose. Two others were beaten. Five suspects were arrested.

Many incumbents were returned to office, but several veteran political figures fell before the onslaught of voters. James H. Andrews for several years president of the Illinois Municipal League, for 16 years.

Republicans Win.
Mark Saunders, Republican, won on Andrews, who waged a campaign advocating municipal ownership of utilities, by 777 votes.

Mayor George Franks of Champaign was defeated by James Flynn, campus clothes merchant, in an election that saw all vote records fall. Kankakee's mayor, Dode Rex, Democrat, was defeated by Roy D. Taylor, as Republicans elected an entire city ticket and nine out of 14 aldermen.

Among election results were:
Rock Island: John A. Bengston (D), defeated Robert A. Galbraith, (R), for mayor, 7,559 to 7,442.

Elgin: For mayor, Myron M. Lehman, incumbent, defeated Earle R. Kelley, 8,028 to 7,195; William H. Trentlage, Morgan H. Brightman, Frank H. Lasher and John O. Meyers, elected city commissioners.

Galena: F. E. Owens, incumbent, named mayor.

Kewanee: Mark A. Saunders, (R), defeated James H. Andrews, mayor for 16 years, by 777 votes.
Moline: Dr. A. Henry Arp, (D), incumbent, defeated John F. Huey, 7,914 to 6,127, for mayor; Mrs. August Brissman, (R), elected city clerk for fourth term. Frank Gustafson, (R), police magistrate for 29 years re-elected; O. W. Swenson, (R), named city treasurer; the Republicans and five Democrats elected to city council.

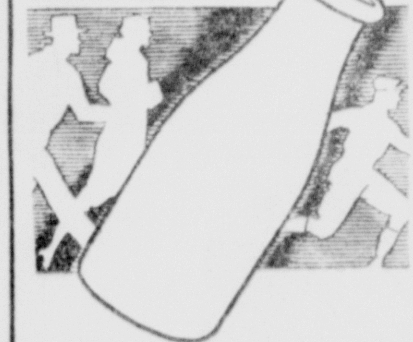

Sterling: W. E. Long defeated Earle Hallett for mayor by 59 votes. F. R. Stoddard, William Krohn, Ervin Pittman, and Raymond Young elected commissioners.

Rock Falls: Samuel Figeley, incumbent, elected mayor.

Tampico: M. H. Parent, incumbent, elected mayor.

Prophetstown: George S. Brydia, incumbent, elected mayor for 15th year.

Senators Open Against A's at Capital Today

Washington, April 17—(AP)—Balked by freezing weather in their plans to open the American League baseball season yesterday, Washington and Philadelphia were to try again this afternoon with President Roosevelt slated to pitch the first ball.

Fair and somewhat warmer, with the temperature around 45, was promised with more than 25,000 fans expected to file into Griffith Stadium to see Connie Mack's new production and the current Senator outfit.

Earl Whitehill, veteran southpaw, was manager Bucky Harris' nomination while Mack narrowed his hurling choices down to either Johnny Marcum or Merritt Cain.

SPENDERS HUGE RELIEF FUND TO BE NAMED SOON

President Studies Proposed Works and Men to Handle Billions

Washington, April 17.—(AP)—Announcement within a few days of the administrative group which will help him allocate the $4,000,000 work fund today was planned by President Roosevelt.

A series of round table conferences on distribution of the big reservoir of relief cash was expected as the first step in speeding its actual operation.

Roosevelt discussing the program at his press conference, expressed confidence that dirt will begin to fly within a month or so on the huge undertaking to transfer $3,500,000 employables from direct to work relief.

More than $900,000,000 of applications for funds were on hand, and a total of $16,000,000,000 to $20,000,000,000 in applications was expected.

Hopes for Loan Basis. Insofar as possible, Roosevelt told newsmen, he hoped to put out much of the money on a loan basis with a view to getting back the greatest possible amount.

To determine as near as possible the exact number of unemployed, their location and their classification of work, Roosevelt said he was planning to devote $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 in having "white collar" unemployed take a census of those out of work.

It still was his intention to make jobs where the unemployed now reside.

Preliminary plans were reported coming into the White House from the various states. The president mentioned particularly those proposed by New Jersey and Wisconsin, but said it would be a couple of months before all plans could be really analyzed and the work begun.

To Take Responsibility. There will be a second administrative set-up—that charged with checking over actual construction. The president expects those government agencies in charge of the work to do this job.

In having round-table conferences on the allocation of funds, Roosevelt said he would take the responsibility in the end for the merits of the thousands of projects to be proposed.

In other words, the president said he wanted an opportunity for considering the small projects as well as the huge ones, and for this reason he would have in the round table discussion a representative group, probably his principal government aides.

NEWS of the CHURCHES

CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN

The pre-Easter services at the Brethren church have been well attended with a good interest each evening. The Rev. William E. Thompson spoke last night from the subject, "Christ's Power to Save," using the text "Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be white as snow, though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool."

The central theme of the Old Testament is the coming of Jesus Christ who was to have power to save men from their sins, this was their hope and idea of the Savior. The New Testament takes up the same thought only with greater force and power for Jesus is born and becomes the Savior of the world and unto him all power was given. He was the expression of God's love and gave a universal invitation to all men: "And the spirit and the bride say come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come: and whosoever will, let him take of the water of life freely."

Mr. Thompson referred his audience to a number of incidents in the New Testament of great sinners who were forgiven by Christ, some of which were considered entirely too sinful to even be admitted to decent society, but when they came under the power of the Master their lives were changed, and their hearts were made clean and their sins were forgiven and they were made happy in the service of the King.

The service tonight will begin at 7:30. There will be special music, good congregational singing, and a wide-awake service to which all are invited.

MANY AQUATIC CREATURES BLIND
Many aquatic creatures that spend their lives in the deeper parts of the ocean are blind from their birth until their death. Cunning sense organs in their skin or on long tentacle-like fin-rays enable them to find their food and their mates and to sense the approach of enemies.

MAILMEN AND MULES
Many unusual sights reward the visitor when he explores Swiss valleys where railways and buses have not found a way of approach. Here the mailman is king and sturdy mules carry all of the supplies for the inhabitants of the toy-like hamlets which cling here and there to the mountains.

FIRE DAMAGED OGLE COLISEUM

Much Equipment Lost in Fire Which Started in the Basement

A blaze of unknown origin which raged for more than an hour before being put under control caused damage estimated at approximately $5,000 to the Oregon municipal coliseum last night.

The fire breaking out in the basement about 9:45 P. M., burned for about an hour, destroying chairs, tables and lockers and other equipment of the Oregon high school basketball and football teams, and smoke and water caused several hundred dollars' damage to the first and second floors.

A major part of the loss was the ruin of newly decorated walls by smoke on the first floor. The coliseum was redecorated just a few weeks ago. Smoke also did some damage in the American Legion room on the second floor of the building.

As far as officials could learn no one had been in the coliseum during the evening. It is believed that defective wiring or spontaneous combustion might have caused the blaze.

The fire was first noticed when a pedestrian walking past the coliseum saw flames leaping out of the basement window. Four strings of the Oregon fire department were used to extinguish the blaze with water.

Owned by the township, the coliseum was built at a cost of approximately $40,000 about 12 years ago.

STATE'S RELIEF FUNDS WILL NOT LAST MONTH OUT

County Committees Get Word From Chairman of State Board

Chicago, April 17.—(AP)—Notice that all relief funds for Illinois will be exhausted on or before April 30 unless the state matches a proposed federal fund with $3,000,000 of its own, was enroute today to all county relief chairmen.

Robert J. Dunham, chairman of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, issued the notice to the county heads last night when he was informed by Howard O. Hunter, regional representative of the FERA that federal funds for May would not be available unless the state provides its share.

In his letter Dunham said relief funds would be exhausted in some cases before the end of the month and that in no counties were funds available for extending relief projects into May.

"If during the remaining days of April you are not notified by this commission that funds have been made available for the coming month, you will be compelled to discontinue the granting of relief on April 30," he wrote.

Orders From Hopkins
Dunham was notified of FERA's stand after Hunter held a conversation by telephone late yesterday with Harry Hopkins, the federal administrator in Washington.

Hunter also informed Dunham FERA "would be glad" to relieve State Auditor Edward J. Barrett and his 60 employees paid from relief funds from any responsibility in the disbursement of federal relief funds.

Hunter said he was convinced the plan of decentralized disbursement of funds which Barrett criticized last week for irregularities, is a sound one, and that he did not wish "to have this plan complicated by unnecessary mechanical procedures."

He suggested Barrett should submit his criticisms "in detail immediately, both to the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission and the Federal Emergency Relief Commission."

Barrett's Position
Commenting on the commission's action relieving him of responsibility for funds under the emergency relief act, Auditor Barrett said it was his belief the commission could not take such action.

"I am an ex-officio member of the board, charged with this responsibility by the state legislature and the governor," he said. "As such my responsibility continues until abrogated by this source. The federal relief agencies have held that funds are under control of the state not the federal, relief agencies, so in my mind there is no question as to the continuance of my responsibility until the relieving action comes from the state."

Senate Passes Bill to Control Trucks

Washington, Apr. 17.—(AP)—The Senate Tuesday passed the Wheeler-Eastman bill providing for regulation of motor buses and trucks by the Interstate Commerce Commission. It now goes to the house.

Passage of this controversial measure was achieved in record time considering the eight years the subject has been before congress. It was taken up only Monday on the floor and approval came Tuesday after less than an hour's perfunctory discussion.

First of a series of measures to coordinate federal control over all form of transportation, the bill would require common carriers by motor to obtain certificates of public convenience. Rates also would be regulated. Contract motor carriers would have to obtain permits and brokers who engage in this business would be licensed.

Two of Family in Peoria Dead: Greens

Peoria, Ill., Apr. 17.—(AP)—A mysterious poison traced apparently to a dish of "greens" took its second victim Tuesday when Miss Alberta Swanson, 29, died in a Peoria hospital. Her mother, Mrs. Lena Swanson, 51, died Monday.

An inquest into the mother's death failed to establish what caused the fatal illness. Testimony was that mother and daughter had eaten boiled rhubarb tops, but medical testimony classified the fatal poison in Mrs. Swanson's case as of mineral nature, not traceable to the vegetables said to be the cause.

Coroner William B. Elliot ordered a laboratory analysis in a further investigation of the two deaths. A son, Laverne, who ate sparingly from the same dish, became ill too.

GEOLOGY

Geology, the study of the earth's skeleton, opened many doors into the intricacies of nature. Fossils of lives lived in other ages found in the rocks led men on to consider the origins of the rocks themselves, as well as to speculate about the lost ages when animals unknown to this age lived, and no traces of humanity were to be found.

The DARK BLOND

by CARLETON KENDRAKE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MILLENCE GRAYES, secretary to GEORGE DRIMGOLD, sends her employer to his office, dead.

JARVIS HAPP, a stranger, offers to help her. He sends her to a beauty shop where she is transformed into a brunet, then takes her home, introducing her as his secretary. She meets HARRY FELDMAN, his stepson. ROBERT CAISE, MRS. HAPP, and VERA DUCHENE, Mrs. Happe's maid.

That night a note under her door informs Millicent. "The woman in black came to see me," Millicent sees the woman, tries to follow, but loses her. Millicent goes to the chauffeur's quarters. The chauffeur is dead from a bullet wound.

Next morning a sergeant MAHONEY takes charge of the case. He questions Millicent.

Over the telephone Mrs. Happe learns that her husband is being kidnapped. She is told she must not inform the police.

Norman Happe tries to tell him what she knows of the whole affair.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXX

MILLENCE piloted Norman Happe down the corridor to her room, closed and locked the door. She turned to face him, wondering where she should begin, and as she stared into his eyes knew that it was going to be increasingly difficult to go through with the plan she had decided on.

Norman Happe saw something of what was going on in her mind. "Is it going to be hard to tell?" he asked.

And, with his question, she realized suddenly that she was going to tell him everything, that she was in such a hurry to know his reactions that she could hardly wait for the words to formulate themselves.

"I am the girl the police are looking for for the Drimgold murder. For a moment the full significance of her statement didn't dawn on him. Then, as he grasped what she was telling him, his eyes showed incredulity.

"You can't be," he told her. "The newspapers described her. She's blond. She's..."

"No, no," she said. "I am the girl. Your father knows. He took me to a friend of his who changed my appearance and made me a brunet instead of a blond. I tell you I'm the girl. I worked for George Drimgold and..."

Her voice trailed away into silence. It was going to be harder than she thought.

It took a moment for Norman Happe's mind to adjust itself to the situation, just as it had taken a moment to appreciate the significance of what she was telling him.

Millicent saw his jaw set, saw his eyes take on a look of grim determination. For a moment it seemed as though her life force was congealing inside of her like mercury dropping in a tube on a very cold night. Then, with the sound of his voice, she felt a surge of happiness. He said doggedly "I don't care what the facts are. Whatever you did, you had some reason for doing it. I'm going to stand back of you."

THAT made it wonderfully easy. She poured forth her story in quick, disjointed sentences, not sparing herself for what she called her stupidity in running away from the scene of the crime. Then she went on telling him exactly what had happened that night when she had gone to the garage, taken Bob Caise's car and gone for the wild ride which terminated when she ran out of gas.

When she had finished Norman Happe moved nearer. He said, "You poor kid!"

Before she realized what had happened his arms were around her and she was sobbing on his shoulder, sobbing which seemed to drain worry and mental anguish from her system.

His hand patted her shoulder, his cheek was against her hair. She could feel the roughness of his coat sleeve where it circled the back of her neck.

Slowly her sobs ceased. She drew back so that she could look up into his face.

"Poor kid," he said again, and patted her shoulder. "You've had a tough time."

"I guess," she said. "It was more of a strain than I realized. I don't usually make a cry-baby of myself."

She could see his resentment of this criticism of herself. He said impatiently, "You're not a cry-baby and you're not to call yourself one. You've been through things few girls could have endured. You've been able to do it because you're such a clean, sweet, square-shooting kid."

For a moment she saw the gleam of affection in his eyes. She found herself hoping he was going to take her in his arms again. But instead there came over his face a look of grim determination.

"Look here," he said, "we have to beat everyone to it."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean we have to solve both of these murders before the police find out about you."

"Oh, but they've already found out about me—or they will."

"What makes you say that?"

"Bob Caise knows."

SHE saw swift jealousy on his face and made haste to interrupt his thoughts.

"No, no. I didn't tell him. I haven't admitted it even yet, but he knows. He was suspicious of me from the first. He wondered why your father brought me here and I think in some way he knew that your father was interested in the Drimgold murder. I don't know whether he knew about your father being in the building when the murder was committed or not. At any rate he was suspicious and he took a photograph that had been published in a newspaper and darkened the hair. The result looked enough like me to convince him that I'm the girl they're looking for."

"If he tells the police I'll kill him," Norman Happe said.

"I think he's already told them. He and Vera Duchene are working together. They wanted me to swear to something that was false."

"What?"

"They wanted me to give Vera Duchene an alibi."

INTER-CLASS CINDER MEET BEGINS TODAY

Prep Hopefuls Seek Regular Berths on Team

Hampered by backward weather conditions, Dixon high school's track and field team, still a big question mark to coaches and fans in the N. C. I. conference, embarks today on its 1935 season with the opening of the inter-class games which continue for three days.

The team enjoyed its first moderately warm afternoon outdoors yesterday and pranced through a vigorous hour and a half of exercise in an effort to enter the games today in good shape. The track was soft but in fairly good condition for the meet, and most of the candidates were in reasonable condition despite a few aching legs and arms, and a pulled muscle here and there.

Aiding Coach C. B. Lindell with his aspirants for positions in the weight department, was John N. Weiss, formerly on the University of Illinois Olympic team.

Weiss demonstrated the fine points of discus throwing to the candidates for this department. With only meagre effort he tossed the discus nearly one hundred feet, and much farther when he really "hore down." Ankeny, Krug, Lloyd Miller and Oakwood were among those heaving the discus under Weiss' tutelage.

Bowers Undecided.

Athletic Director A. C. Bowers, after appraising the feats of Sterling Township high school's tracksters in the Geneseo meet, was still undecided yesterday about his relay team.

The inter-class games are expected to clarify the situation a bit. "Mickey" McMillion, his leading hurdler, pulled a muscle a few days ago, hampering the strength of that department, but last night "Mickey" was in uniform and apparently recovering from this setback. Others who were receiving attention from Bowers at the hurdles were Strong and Schumm. The loss of Snader for the remainder of the season has crippled Bowers' relay prospects.

Coach L. E. Sharpe's high and broad jumpers were leaping the bars last night. Among the jumpers are Cooper, Boyd, Flanagan and Evans.

The first interscholastic track meet will be against Rock Falls on the Dixon track, Thursday, April 25.

Yesterday's Stars

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Babe Ruth, Braves—Drove in two runs, scored two, on single and homer as Braves topped Giants, 4-2.

Wes Ferrell, Red Sox—Blanked Yankees with two hits.

Gabby Hartnett, Cubs—Collected home run, double and single against Cardinals, driving home winning run in eighth.

Van Mungo, Dodgers—Stopped Phillies with five hits and drove in five runs with three singles.

Glen Myatt, Indians—Doubled in 14th to give Indians 2-1 victory over Browns.

Waite Hoyt, Pirates—Pitched Pirates to easy triumph over Reds.

DEAN INSISTS HE'LL RETURN TO THE MOUND

Refuses to Take Ankle Injury Seriously

Chicago, April 17.—(AP)—The baseball season already is old for that great man of the pitching hill, Jerome (Dizzy) Dean.

Although the 1935 campaign was only a day old today, Dizzy already has had more experiences, attracted more attention and furnished more headline copy than many hard-plugging players do in a lifetime of toil.

He has been fined $100 for missing a train.

He has been on the carpet before Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

He has been mowed down by a batted ball and rushed with all the dramatic flourishes to a hospital.

So, all Dizzy has left to do to retain his headline average for the year is to win 30 games again for the St. Louis Cardinals and repeat his World Series glory in the fall.

Maybe he will and maybe he won't, but you can depend on one thing—Dizzy's got the same spirit, probably more, than he had last year when his tireless right arm hauled the Cards from down yonder to baseball fame.

Leg Sore Today

Dizzy's left leg was sore today. A big red spot showed where it had been painfully bruised from a line drive off Freddie Lindstrom's bat in the very first inning of his seasonal debut against the Cubs yesterday. His physician, trainer and manager Frankie Frisch told him he was out of the game for a week, but Ol' Diz would not listen.

"Say, I'll be back on that hill tomorrow and make the Cubs pay for this," he told Manager Frisch. "Diz has got to do something about this right away. When they start hitting line drives back at me, I've got to get some revenge. Yes sir, I'll pitch and beat 'em Thursday, and I will pitch and win one game against Pittsburgh this trip, too. Gotta keep up my winning average and have two in the old sack by the time I get back to St. Looney."

"Aw, you'll be lucky to get back in a week," Frisch chimed in.

"Yeah? Well, you watch!"

Dizzy's escape yesterday with nothing but a bruised bone was nothing short of miraculous. Lindstrom, a powerful hitter, put all his power behind his swing, and the ball came back at Dizzy like a shot out of a cannon, travelling about two feet high.

It caught the Cardinal star on the shin bone a few inches above the ankle, but with the slightest bit of deflection, Dizzy dashed after the loose ball but collapsed as he was about to pick it up.

"I'm sure sorry I didn't pick it up," he told his mates later. "I am sorry I fell down."

RELIEF CLIENTS STRIKE

Galesburg, Ill.—Demanding increased wages and longer hours, 100 relief project workers here, were on strike today. Paul Burkhardt, Knox county relief director, threatened to shut down all projects if any trouble occurs.

ZEBRAS' STRIPES.

Animal experts have found that ordinary zebras have but 90 to 99 discernible stripes from nose to tail tip. An African zebra horn in Fleishacker zoo, San Francisco has been found to have 100 stripes.

Ruth's Homer and Dizzy Dean's Injury Featured Glamorous Loop Openers

Bambino Cheats Old Father Time Once More

Old Father Time, it appears, will be lucky to get even a draw with George Herman Ruth.

Overshadowing all other developments as the major league baseball season got away to a halting start in frigid weather yesterday were the amazing exploits of the portly, aging Babe.

An injury to Jerome (Dizzy) Dean, remarkable pitching by a half dozen established stars, heavy hitting at Cincinnati and Philadelphia—all these faded into the background as the mighty Ruth, called into the National league to lead the Boston Braves out of the financial wilderness, squared accounts with Carl Hubbell, slender showup of the New York Giants.

Facing the left-hander for the first time since the all-star game last summer when he went down, swinging at a third strike, Ruth smacked Hubbell for a single and a home run to account for all the Braves' runs in a 4-2 victory over the Giants.

That was what 25,000 fans had braved pneumonia to see and the Babe didn't let them down.

They hadn't expected, however, the 41-year-old home run master to star afield but his sensational glove-hand catch of Hubbell's low liner in the fifth saved Ed Brandt and the Braves some embarrassment. Brandt gave up only five hits but it was definitely the Babe's day.

At Chicago, the world champion St. Louis Cardinals saw their pennant aspirations almost come to grief on the first day of the campaign.

A line drive from Freddie Lindstrom's bat struck Dizzy Dean on the left leg, just above the ankle, in the first inning and the great right-hander was carried off the field. An x-ray showed no broken bones, but the Dizzy One probably will be out for a week nursing a severe bruise.

The Cubs nicked Dizzy for one run before he was rendered hors de combat, added two more off Bud Tinning in the second and scored what proved to be the winning run in a 4-3 victory off Ray Harrell in the eighth.

Gabby Hartnett took care of the Cubs' attack with a home run, double and single while Lon Warneke staggered the route although tagged for 12 hits. Only 15,500 braved the weather to see this battle.

Rounding out the full National league program, the Pittsburgh Pirates concentrated a 14-hit attack in two big innings to whip the Cincinnati Reds, 12-6 while Waite Hoyt kept the Reds pretty well in control, much to the displeasure of 27,000 Redland fans. At Philadelphia, only 3,000 saw the Brooklyn Dodgers shell the Phillies, 13-3 behind Van Mungo's five-hit pitching.

Big Crowd for Yanks.

The biggest crowd of the day, 29,287, swarmed into the Yankee Stadium to see a brilliant pitching duel between Wes Ferrell, veteran right-hander of the Boston Red Sox, and Vernon (Goofy) Gomez, slim showup of the Yankees.

Ferrell, in mid-season form, gave the Ruth-less Yankees only two hits, faced only 29 men and won 1-0. Gomez, losing to the Red Sox for the first time in his career, was nicked for only six hits but an error by Lou Gehrig

DO YOU REMEMBER?

One Year Ago Today—Lon Warneke just missed baseball's hall of fame when he held the Cincinnati Reds to one hit and pitched the Chicago Cubs to a 6-0 victory.

Five Years Ago Today—For the first time in the history of the meet events were arranged for women in the Southeastern A. A. U. track and field carnival at Atlanta, Ga.

permitted the winning run to score in the sixth.

George Selkirk, taking Ruth's old place in right field, got one of the Yankee hits, Gehrig the other. The fielding features were taken care of by Ellsworth Dahlgren, rookie first baseman of the Red Sox. He saved Manager Joe Cronin from the embarrassment of three errors by brilliant stops on bad throws.

The only other American league game produced a fine pitching duel at St. Louis between Mel Harder of the Cleveland Indians and Glen Myatt of the Browns. Glen Myatt's double finally broke this up with a double in the 14th that gave the Indians a 2-1 triumph. Harder allowed only eight hits, Newsom 12.

Cold weather deferred the inaugurals at Detroit, with the champion Tigers entertaining the Chicago White Sox, and at Washington, with the Senators playing host to the Philadelphia Athletics, until today.

A third opening today, weather permitting, will find Cincinnati renewing its series with Pittsburgh in the Pirates' home lair, Forbes field.

The aggregate attendance for yesterday's six opening games was 103,687 compared with 187,053 for eight games a year ago. The four National league contests at-

GARDEN BIDS FOR BOXING POPULARITY

Louis - Carnera, Baer Braddock Bouts in June

New York, April 17.—(AP)—The liveliest promotional war since Tex Rickard's heyday promises to restore New York to its former proud position as fistic capital of the world.

As a result of the feverish rivalry between Madison Square Garden and Mike Jacobs' 20th Century Club, metropolitan followers of the cauliflower brigade can put their cash on the line, if it holds out that long, for these four prime attractions:

May 10—Tony Canzoneri vs. Lou Ambers, at the Garden, for New York State Athletic Commission recognition as world's lightweight champion, succeeding Barney Ross, resigned.

May 28—Ross vs. Jimmy McLarnin for the world's welterweight championship at the Polo Grounds with acrobats promoting.

June 13—Max Baer vs. Jimmy Braddock for the heavyweight championship, at the Garden's Long Island Bowl.

June 25—Joe Louis, Detroit Negro heavyweight, vs. Primo Carnera at the Yankee Stadium, Jacobs in charge.

Although Jimmy Johnston and his arden associates have the offerings with the 20th Century Club, the financial advantage apparently all bills to local tradesmen be settled in full by June 1 each year.

May Draw $300,000

Accurate prognosticators of gate receipts estimate the third meeting between Ross and McLarnin will draw nearly $300,000 and that the Louis-Carnera bout, the slugging Negro's eastern debut, may attract nearly $500,000.

One of the arden's bouts, that between Canzoneri and Ambers, will be held under where there will be no chance of running the gate

New Dixon Ball Team Conquers East End, 5 to 4

Another baseball team blossomed forth Sunday in Dixon and overpowered a hastily collected team of East Enders 5 to 4 in the last of the ninth inning.

The newly formed club planned an invasion of Lee Center Sunday, April 7, but was balked by unfavorable weather in their debut. Next Sunday the team will carry out its original plan with the opening victory already tucked away. Against the East End nine, Henry pitched for seven innings. He was relieved by Johnson.

Players identified with the new team include Underwood, field; Withers, field; Ott Randall, field; Franks, field; Johnson, pitcher; Tom Hasselberg, third base; Hilliker, shortstop; Henry, pitcher; K. Hasselberg, second base; E. Flanagan, first base and pitcher; Crutchoff, first base, and Scriven, catcher.

No box score of the game was available.

into big money. Just what Baer's title defense with Braddock will draw is problematical although some boxing critics have predicted that $200,000 will be the most the Garden can expect.

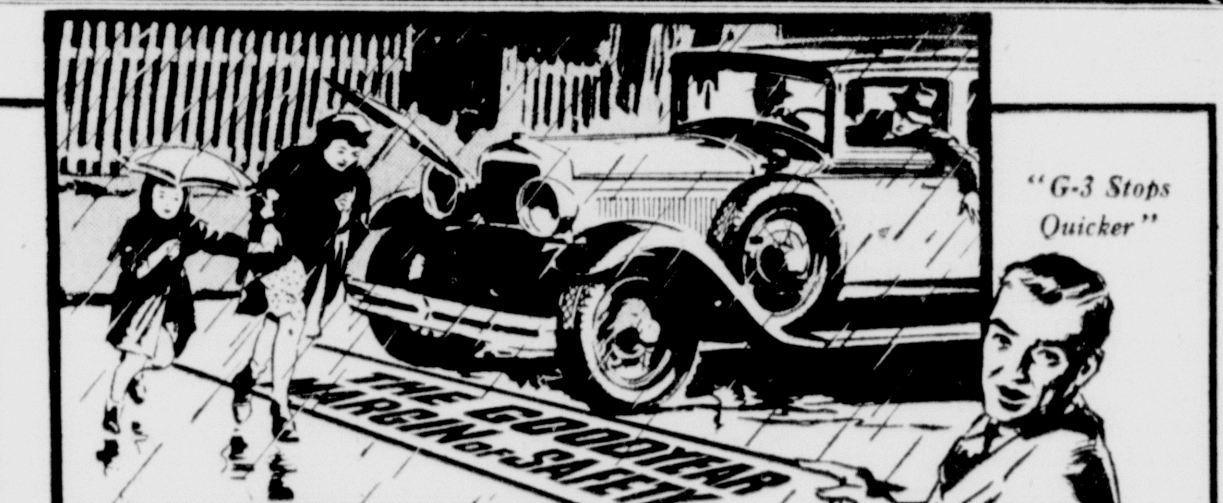

Braddock's personal following in the east and the crowd-appeal of a heavy-weight championship match may swell the receipts well past this figure.

One of the significant features of the promotional lineup is that a victory for Baer will break the Garden's domination of heavyweight championship matches, unbroken since Rickard first tied up Jack Dempsey. Baer has no hold over contract this time for another fight and may prefer to do business elsewhere in the future.

Braddock agreed to one title defense for the Garden in the event he whips Baer.
